

Adebiotech independent Biotechnology Think Tank

Conference Speakers Charter and Code of Ethics

Plenary Conference access and Pass

Adebiotech's Conferences participants (speakers) are invited by the Scientific Committee and get their CONFERENCE PASS free of charge. This PASS gives access to all activities related to the specific Conference, including buffets and cocktail reception.

Travel costs and accommodation

Adebiotech is a non-profit organization and gives a special care about ethics and potential conflicts of interest. This vigilance warrants Adebiotech's independence and avoids any risk of lobbying through financial gifts of any kind. Therefore, Adebiotech will not take in charge travel or accommodation expenses for speakers.

Live broadcast of scientific presentations and discussions

Scientific presentations and associated round-table discussions can be valorized through a Live broadcast from Adebiotech's web site. Speakers give permission to Adebiotech to communicate free of charge their presentations and recorded discussions (audio/video). Should confidential information be included in some presentation slides, this information will of course be deleted.

Presentation topics and required documents

Speakers agree to send in due time as required by the organizing committee the title of their presentation with copy of their slides, as well as a recent picture and a short scientific biography résumé in English, with updated affiliation (Institute, Company).

Industry-affiliated speakers commit to present only scientific-oriented talks with no marketing/commercial contents ; Companies and Sponsors can benefit from commercial networking opportunities, posters and equipment displays in the dedicated satellite room.

Participating to an Adebiotech Conference implies complying with all points listed above.
